REBUILDING TOGETHER DUTCHESS COUNTY TO ATTEND DUTCHESS COUNTY FAIR

Poughkeepsie, NY – Rebuilding Together Dutchess County, a local nonprofit, which for 23 years, has provided cost-free home repairs to hundreds of low-income homeowners throughout Dutchess County will host an informational booth at the Dutchess County Fair this August 19th through the 24th in Rhinebeck, NY.

Rebuilding Together Dutchess County (RTDC) brings volunteers and communities together to revitalize homes, assuring that qualified homeowners live independently in a warm, safe and dry environment. Since their founding in 1992, over 450 homeowners have been helped with repairs valued at over $5 million in market value and over 12,000 volunteers have been engaged.

The annual Dutchess County Fair is the second largest county fair in New York State. "We are excited to attend this event and offer community members the opportunity to familiarize themselves with Rebuilding Together Dutchess County," said RTDC's executive director Christina Boryk. "This event will help raise awareness about our programs, helping us to grow and serve more of our neighbors in need."

Rebuilding Together Dutchess County brings volunteers and communities together to revitalize homes, assuring that qualified homeowners live independently in a warm, safe and dry environment. Our goal is to make a sustainable impact on their houses as well as their lives, in partnership with the communities we serve, and to do so without cost to those we are able to help. RTDC's mission is completed with the help of everyday citizen volunteers, skilled trades people, the support of local business and major corporate partners.
