Saucer-like Creatures Glide into the Dutchess County Fair

July 28th, 2017

Rhinebeck, NY - Are stingrays fish? Can stingrays fly? These questions and more about these oddly adorable creatures will be answered at the world's only traveling "self-contained" Stingray exhibit! Patrons can safely view and touch these wonderful creatures during the Dutchess County Fair and receive a hands-on educational experience.

This wonderful exhibit is an all-day interactive exhibit featuring a video and audio presentation that runs continuously during the Fair. Knowledgeable staff members are on duty at all times answering questions that patrons may have about Sea Life.
