FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Test Your Taste Bud Boundaries at Guerilla Science's Bug Diner, coming to the Dutchess County Fair!

August 10th, 2018

Rhinebeck, NY—Come join Guerilla Science this August from the 21-26 at the Dutchess County Fair! Building on our history of sharing research in unexpected places and unusual ways, we'll be bringing a very different kind of fair food. We'll be serving DIS-comfort food via the Entomophotron, a bug-filled booth modelled after a classic 1950s-style diner. Try chapulines, a popular Mexican treat that you might recognize - they're cooked grasshoppers! Sample a new twist on a childhood favorite with literal ants on a log. Or simply chat with our servers, who can tell you all about the history of insect-eating, and how it might prove to be the future of food! You can find us in Building E!
