Bios:

Cooper Alan with special guest Chase McDaniel: Named the “Next Big Thing” by Music Row Magazine, Cooper Alan is an up-and-coming country star that has independently built a fan base of over 10 million followers and earned over 100 million streams on social media. His hit singles include New Normal and Tough Ones, and many more. Cooper started his own record label, Cooped Up Records, and began to translate his social media audience into live shows.

Chase McDaniel: Chase was raised by his grandparents in Kentucky with traditional family values and old school county music. Chase is a true independent artist. He released his first song “Relapse” online attracting over 2 million streams and his follow up “Project” had over 1.2 million streams in just the first week. Chase’s music blends the old and new music to deliver something truly unique and listeners can’t get enough.

Brantley Gilbert: “Country Must be County Wide, My Kind of Party and Bottoms Up” are several of his number 1 hits that define his career. Brantley is the leader of his fans known as the BG Nation. Members of the BG Nation can be found watching Gilbert on stage and having a great time!

Steve Augeri: The former lead vocalist of the Super-Group Journey, Steve Augeri is known for his soaring vocals, gritty Tenor and powerful stage presence. In 1998, Steve debuted on the seven-times platinum Armageddon soundtrack continuing the legacy as the Journey’s lead vocalist. Steve brings his signature blend of rock and soul into every event.

Chris Cagle: Nominated for New Male Vocalist by the ACM’s and voted CMT’s Breakthrough Artist of the year in 2002, it is the stage where Cagle has always shined the brightest. “I Breathe In, I Breathe Out”, was his first song after being signed by Virgin Records. Cagle co-wrote and co-produced his debut Gold Record, Play It Loud. His passion for the performance of music is a rare find, and Chris isn’t afraid of giving everything he has to his fans.

Refugee, Tom Petty Tribute: Brought together by their deep love of Tom Petty’s music, these lifelong friends and accomplished musicians guarantee a great time paying tribute to one of the greatest songwriters/performers, Tom Petty and his Heartbreakers. This high-end, powerhouse, band has taken this genre of performance art to a whole new level, making it one of the best tributes to a musical legacy.

Dutchess County Fair will open on Tuesday, August 22 and runs through August 27.
